

Our Business

Our network of 4,406 post offices mean we are never far away – making it easy for our customers to send, receive and collect their parcels. Our network of more than 200 Parcel Locker locations gives customers even more choice about where and when they collect their goods.

Our 15,591 street posting boxes mean that even if you live on Horn Island in the Torres Strait, you can post a letter across the world or return your online purchases as easily as someone in a capital city.

With 11.4m delivery points across the country, we deliver almost everywhere. So, even if you live in Kununurra in WA's remote Kimberley region, you'll be on one of our routes.

Asian gateway

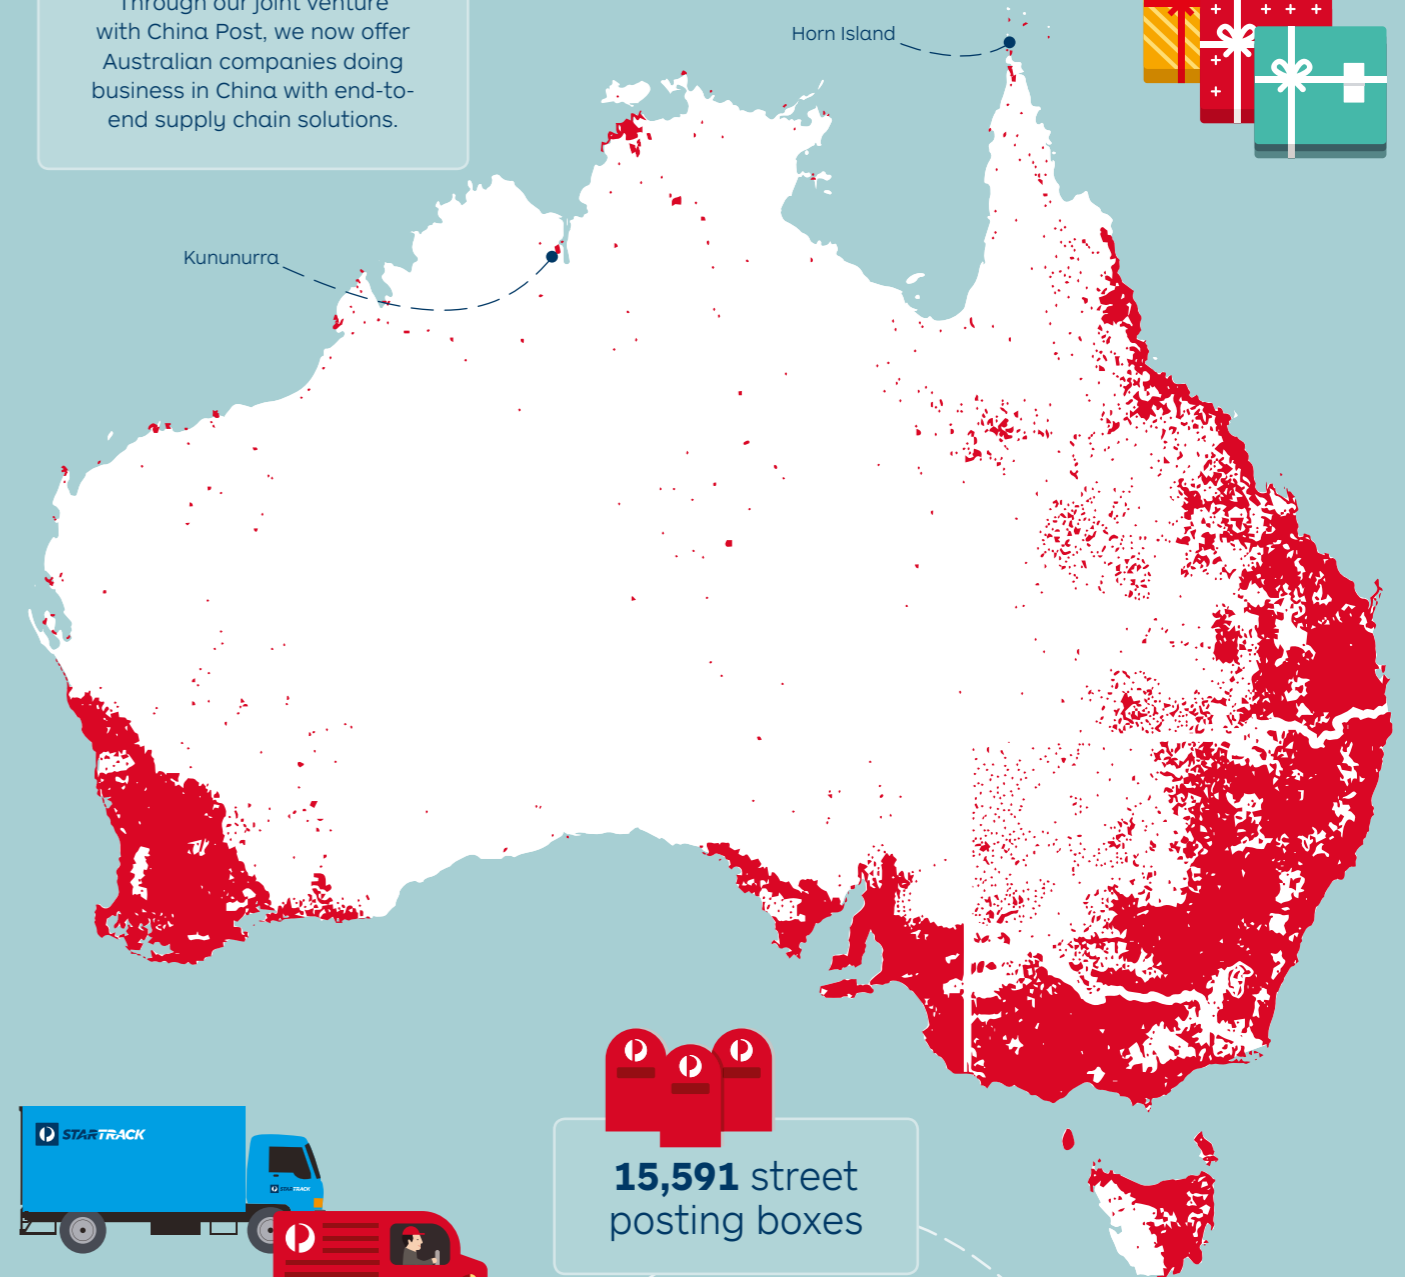

We help Australian businesses to reach more than 500m Chinese consumers through our online marketplaces on JD.com and Tmall.

Through our joint venture with China Post, we now offer Australian companies doing business in China with end-to-end supply chain solutions.

Shop like you live in the USA

Our Shopmate service now allows Australian consumers to make online purchases from retailers who only ship with in the USA.
